FOREIGN NEWS.

Three Days Later from Europe. By the arrival of the packet ship Europe, at New York, later advices have been received from England. It will be seen that there is a strong probability that Mr. Packenham, the Minister the sales for the 13th were reported at who is to succeed Mr. Fox, at Washington, comes with full powers to negotiate and settle the Oregon question.

In the previous fortnight the aggregate advance in cotton The total business of the past three was two cents per pound, being equal to an advance in the value of the cotton of America full twenty millions of dollars.

Another important piece of news is the semi-official announcement, by the London Morning Herald, that Mr. Packenham is coming out with full instructions to settle the the Oregon question. Here it is:

The Oregon Territory .- Mr. Packenham, the newly appointed British Envoy to the United States, carries out with him, it is confidently stated, full instructions to negotiate a settlement of the Oregon Territory dispute.—Morning Herald.

Mr. Packenham may be expected here or at the Chesapeake every day, having sailed from Portsmouth on the 16th ult., the same day the Europe sailed from England.

If we are not misinformed, and we are pretty certain we are not, the family circle next year at Claremont, will be more numerous. - Court Journal.

Keep out the old Sow .- We were much amused at the following dialogue between a 'soap lock' of Columbus, and a plain practical farmer. The currency was the subject

Soap Lock .- You have observed the blighting influence of the whole litter of local banks; they have swept across the breadth of our once happy land like the awful sirocco, leaving nought but destruction and devastation in their train. Sir, we must have a National Bank; it is the only thing that will ever relieve us from our embarrassment, and restore the currency to a sound and healthy condition.

Farmer .- If a litter of pigs had got into your potatoe patch, and destroyed almost the whole crop, would you turn the old sow in to complete the destruction?'

This was a poser to 'soapy,' and he turned upon his heel and left the farmer. The illustration is a good one. We say, keep out the old sow .- Miss. Adv.
